FAQ

- What is the difference between the PDR and PNR?
A The PDR extends over 37" (950 mm) from the wall, while the PNR extends 24.88" (632 mm).
- How do I know if my screen is too small to use with PDR?
A The PDR is designed for 42" screens and larger. To ensure the mount will be completely hidden, your screen width should be greater than 40" (101.6 cm) and screen height should be greater than 25" (635 mm).
- Is the PDR available as a universal solution?
A Yes. Simply order a PDRU to receive a universal interface bracket with the unit. The PDR can also be ordered as a universal mount. See ordering steps below.

HOW TO ORDER

- Determine which style mount will best suit your needs.
 Note: flat panel displays smaller than 37" generally require a mount from our Small or Medium Flat Panel Display line. Check the cross-reference chart to verify.
- For custom model number, look up your display in the cross-reference chart or on the website. Order PDR-xxxx, model number includes interface bracket.
- For universal model number, order PDRU, fits 95% of screen models.
